ANOTHER FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT SUNDAY ON HIGHWAY 90 NEAR BAY

Two Ladies From Birmingham Lose Lives—Hampton Reynolds, Prominent Orleans, Seriously Injured—Party Taken to Local King's Daughters Hospital—Accident Seemingly Unavoidable

Another horrible traffic accident occurred on Highway 90 on last Sunday a half hour after mid-day when two automobiles going in opposite directions were wrecked in a head-on collision and two occupants fatally injured, while three others received severe injuries.

Two Birmingham school teachers lost their lives in this accident, Miss Alice Nolan, about fifty, of 308 12th street N. W., died a few minutes after the collision when a passing motorist, a prominent New Orleans physician, rushed to the scene and stated her injuries were so severe that she had been almost instantly killed.

The other teacher, Miss LeMerle Askew, 45, received a fractured skull and jaw bone and crushed thigh, and never regained consciousness, dying at 5:15 A. M. on Monday in the local Kings Daughters Hospital to which place she had been conveyed after the accident.

The driver of the car, William Pierce, 25, of Birmingham, and nephew of Miss Nolan, received contusions of the face, head injuries and suffered from severe shock and was also treated at the local King's Daughters Hospital.

Hampton Reynolds, prominent New Orleans, and member of the City Planning and Development Board, returning from along the Coast to his home in New Orleans and with a chauffeur driving his car, was the other victim of the collision. Mr. Reynolds suffered a broken nose, two broken ribs and severe injuries to his right eye, which physicians at the Baptist Hospital in New Orleans stated might cause the loss of the eye. A motorist driving to New Orleans conveyed Mr. Reynolds to the city and he was treated at the Baptist Hospital.

The chauffeur suffered several bruises and abrasions and was not severely injured.

The accident was the result of the usual weekend and holiday traffic rush on the highway when hundreds of motorists jam the traffic lanes and create many hazards on the narrow two-lane highway, which, at this early stage of the summer season has been the scene in a section of about twenty-five miles out of Bay St. Louis of several terrible accidents, with one or more persons being killed instantly and others horribly injured.

The new film is a delightful romantic comedy dealing with the adventures of a shop girl who inherits a million dollars. Pretty Priscilla Lane, star of the "Four Daughters" series is, of course, the "Million Dollar Baby," and Jeffery Lynn, her "Four Daughters" sweetheart, is the young lawyer who first brings her to the inheritance, then stays to sue for her hand.

Ronald Reagan, popular young star of "Brother Rat" who won such wide praise for his work as George Gipp in "Knute Rockne—All American," is cast as the cynical young composer who is in love with Priscilla, too, but prejudiced against her money.

BAY CITY PLANS FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF SOLDIERS JULY FOURTH

Meeting Held at Courthouse Monday Night—Selectees on Vacation to Bivouac on City Hall Parks and Adjacent Grounds—K. C. Hall Scene For Dance Saturday.

On Monday evening in the Hancock County courthouse a meeting was held for the purpose of formulating and completing plans for the entertainment of one hundred soldiers from Camp Shelby who will be on the Coast for the Fourth of July week-end.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. A. F. Fournier, and there were present officers and chairmen of committees appointed recently as well as a representative of nearly every civic and church organization in Bay St. Louis.

After a lengthy discussion as to the best location for bivouacing the contingent of soldiers, with several places offered and discussed, it was decided the most central location and the one offering the most comforts available upon short notice was the City Park in the rear of City Hall and a lot adjacent to it owned by the Engman estate on which tents could be placed the benches, and tennis courts offering outdoor amusement for the soldiers and the location within walking distance of picture shows, restaurants and the beach and business section.

It was decided to use the Knights of Columbus Hall as a lounge for the soldiers in which a music box will be placed and to which the boys may dance and books and magazines and accommodations for writing. A bulletin board will be placed there also giving the schedules of services in the various churches and other important information which will be of interest to the soldiers.

A large dance was planned for the boys in the Woodmen of the World Hall on Saturday night with the Biloxi Serenaders Band furnishing the music and invitations given by the hostesses for the dance and under the strictest chaperonage. Among the rules which will be strictly adhered to will be strict vigilance against intoxicating liquors being brought into the hall and the forbiddance of the girls leaving the hall after once entering with the expectation of returning. The dance will be informal.

As the Fourth of July week-end will find almost every home in Bay St. Louis entertaining extra guests, the idea of entertaining a soldier or two for dinner on Sunday had to be abandoned for this week-end but it is planned to endeavor to interest families to ask into their homes one or more boys on Sunday for dinner in order to provide lone-some boys away from home a meal cooked and served in the home atmosphere which they relinquished on entering training and for which they all wish for while so far from their homes.

Mrs. Elsie McLaughlin, Area Supervisor of the Recreation Project for this district from Gulfport, explained briefly the manner in which boys had been entertained in Gulfport and Biloxi and the excellent system for handling the dances and invitations and offered her assistance to the Bay St. Louis women.

The following committees have been named to handle the affairs for the entertainment of this week's contingent of soldiers:

Chairman: Mrs. Margaret Hogan, Executive Chairman; General Chairman, Mrs. W. S. Speer; Vice-chairman, Mrs. Theo Tudy.

R. W. TAYLOR SCHOOL HAS HAD EVENTFUL, SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Review of One of City's Ward Schools—Unusual Activity Marks Session

The past term was very successful and profitable for the pupils of R. W. Taylor school.

The school enrolled 17 boys and 15 girls and the average was exceptionally good. There were six pupils with perfect attendance records. To these six pupils gold medals were awarded. Four to the third grade as follows:

Inez Pavolini, Odelle Saucier, Truman Schultz and John Anthony January and from the second grade: Jo Ann St. Angelo and Orlie Ann Green. The medals were given by the following Mr. George C. Pitcher, two; Mr. Chas. G. Moreau, one; The P. T. A. one and Mrs. Stockstill, two.

Pupils not winning medals but on the honor roll were Patsy Poyadoux, Alton Morel, Louis and John Oliver, Jimmie and Evelyn Randolph and Raymond Morel.

There was a Halloween party, a Thanksgiving party, an Easter Egg Hunt and two penny parties. The Christmas tree was given by Mr. Pitcher, or as the pupils call him, "Our fairy God Father" and the hope is expressed he enjoys the giving just as much as these children enjoy the receiving.

Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Moreau, James Bryan and three generous friends together with Mr. and Mrs. Pitcher made all these activities possible.

The school takes this opportunity to thank each and everyone who in any way contributed to make this a pleasant and successful year for Taylor School.

The lunch room was under the efficient management of Mrs. Cella St. Angelo and Elsie Brignone and the health of the children together with the improvement in scholarship proves that this project is a worth while piece of community work.

Mrs. Lena Stockstill is the efficient and successful principal of this school and the lion's share of success is due to her personally patrons and pupils co-operating.

The city is carrying on an extensive work of smoothing the hard-surfacing of Front street by removing all buildings and replacing with smooth-topped cement. This makes for easier traveling and more comfort as well as saving the life of a car. Our beach boulevard has been a succession of bumps, so to speak, and the city, with Mayor Blaize's personal supervision has accomplished a fine work.

FOR SHIPS, TOO!

And For Dozens Of Other Defense Materials

The demand for electric power for defense production continues to increase. Sustained operation of industries producing defense materials requires that every patriotic citizen continue to limit his use of electric power in his factory, his store or office, and at home.

The manufacture of materials and equipment for clothing and equipping the Army and Navy, and for use in actual fighting should it come to that, has resulted in increased demands for electric power greater than any heretofore experienced. These extraordinary demands for power for defense production in Mississippi and other Southeastern states resulted in the appeal of the Federal Power Commission, the Office of Production Management, the War Department, the TVA and private power companies in the Southeast, that you limit your use of electricity in every possible way so that Southern Industries engaged in defense work can operate without pause.

The spirit of the response to the appeal has been cheering; however, the need for national defense production becomes greater daily, so that curtailment of the use of power for non-defense purposes must continue.

WILL YOU CONTINUE TO HELP KEEP NATIONAL DEFENSE INDUSTRIES RUNNING AT FULL SPEED BY LIMITING YOUR USE OF ELECTRICITY TO WHATEVER EXTENT YOU CAN?

We and other power producing agencies in the Southeast are doing all we can to make it possible for you to resume your normal use of electric service at the earliest possible date.

EIGHTY per cent of the patients at Mississippi State Hospital at Whitfield are engaged in "some form of helpful work" at the institution according to a survey announced by Dr. C. M. He said the employment extended from rug, furniture, and garment making to some forms of specialized work in gardening and farming.

Mrs. Alice Lister has been appointed superintendent of the White Hospital at Whitfield, succeeding Mrs. A. P. St. John. Mrs. Lister was night supervisor prior to her new appointment. Bulletin 14A just issued by Roland Wall, WPA Administrator for Mississippi is interesting and instructive. It states that three months ago 16 Mississippi men were out of jobs and "on WPA" at a more subsistence wage, because they could not find employment elsewhere, and that now, due to the services of the Vocational Training Department of the State Department of Education, these men all have good jobs. That through this same agency 1003 others are now in training in Mississippi and in a few weeks they, too, will take their places in the lineup of workmen who are making America safe. Training schools under this department are located at Greenwood, Clarksdale, Leland, Greenville, State College, Jackson, Vicksburg, Alcorn A. & M., McComb, Columbia Hattiesburg, Meridian, Laurel, Biloxi and Pascagoula. Principal courses are automobile and aviation mechanics; electric welding; sheet metal work; marine pipe fitting; concrete form work; and others. These men taken from WPA rolls receive their regular WPA pay while in training.

With $879,334 worth of projects now under way, Mississippi is contributing its share of the nation's $17,000,000 program of providing access roads to military, naval and defense industry centers scattered throughout the United States—one of the major items in the WPA defense program. Four projects near Camp Shelby, necessitated by the tremendous movement of heavy equipment and men certified by the Secretary of War as of vital military importance, are now employing 478 men in a drive to complete them as soon as possible. Of these, 401 are at work on the Hattiesburg to Camp Shelby road, parallel to Highway 49, and the remainder are working on access roads at the camp itself. So far, WPA expenditures on those projects has been more than $200,000, with the projects scheduled for completion within a few months.

A bulletin just issued by the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station, which is of special interest to Mississippi farmers growing beef cattle. Tests were made as to the value of grain as a feed for finishing beef calves with the following results: Corn had a feeding value of 724c per bushel, barley 63.7c per bushel, and oats 81c per bushel. Three uniform lots of 12 grade calves were used in the test, which extended over a period of 120 days. The calves were placed on feed soon after being weaned at about seven months.

God give me patience to pursue The trail attempted, bravely thru. For fortitude to face each task Serenely, Lord, I fondly ask.

—Mrs. E. G. Jordy, well-known former Bay St. Louis resident, is returning here shortly from Gulfport and has arranged to occupy one of the new apartments which Mr. John Fawcett has made in the former Benvenuti property on Main street above the business, which he conducts on the ground floor of this building.

IT'S hard to believe, but Gretta Garbo is letting enough of herself go to learn the rhumba, which she performs with Melvyn Douglas in their as yet untitled picture.

Linda Darnell, attractive young starlet from Texas, doesn't drink, smoke cigarettes, and believe it or not, must be home every night by 11:30—no later. Although she makes $750 a week, her wardrobe is just a trifle more elaborate than that of the average working girl. Half of her money goes into a trust fund until she's 21—she's only 17 now.

David Niven, British actor who made such a hit in this country, is a major in a British tank corps and has named his tanks for Hollywood movie stars. There's a tank named Myrna Loy, Rosalind Russell and Donald Duck, but the biggest tank of all is named—you guessed it—Mae West.

On of the most popular actresses with the carpenters and electricians on the sets is Marlene Dietrich. When asked why a prop man replied, "She's so nice. She smiles at everybody. And she doesn't throw things."

Because of his excellent work in "Blood and Sand," Tyrone Power will get the pick of his studio offerings. When he finishes his current "A Yank in the R.A.R." he will do "Benjamin Franklin," to be followed by "The Black Swan" and "The Gift of the Magi."

How's this for title-changing? The Clark Gable-Rosaling Russell picture recently completed, started off as "The Uniform," was changed to "Unholy Partners," and then became finally, "They Met in Bombay." Not so much improvement, we'd say.

That much-heralded split between Paulette Goddard and Charlie Chaplin is apparently off. A diamond bracelet was Paulette's reconciliation gift from Chaplin.

Because Lana Turner is playing a "nice girl" in "Honky Tonk," her current flicker, she has been offered to duplicate the role in her private life—avoiding night clubs and extravagant dress for the duration.

Speaking of Broadway reminds us that Rosemary Lane one of the pretty Lane sisters, will appear on the stage in the leading role of "A Young Man's Fancy," which George Abbott is producing.

Carol Bruce, who made such a hit on Broadway in "Louisiana Purchase," will make her screen debut in the film, "This Girl is Mine."

The house Deanna Durbin and Paul Vaughn are building will be the first in Hollywood to have a Government-approved bomb-proof cellar.

Failing to get the chance he craved to sing good songs in pictures, Dennis Morgan accepted an invitation to sing with the Dubuque (Iowa) Symphony Orchestra. Hollywood officials will probably take note now.

Mary Martin, who recently finished work with Bing Crosby on "Birth of the Blues," will take time out for a few months for a rendezvous with the stork. Afterwards, she and Bing will costar again in "Man in the Street."

On Wednesday, Mrs. Carl Marshall entertained at a bridge-luncheon for Miss Ellis at the Marshall home on North Beach which was a lovely affair, and with the following young ladies present besides the honoree, Miss Ellis, Miss Sally Gray Parker of DeLisle, Miss Ann Ingram, Miss Marion Hopkins and Miss Marshall.

On Thursday, Miss Marion Hopkins entertained delightfully at a dinner party at her home in Gulfport for Miss Marshall and Miss Ellis.

MARRIAGE AT NEW ORLEANS OF MISS JOY CHALONA TO DR. BYONS

A wedding of local interest took place at New Orleans Saturday morning when Miss Eleanor Joy Chalona, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chalona, of Clermont Harbor and New Orleans, became the bride of Dr. John Morgan Byons, of New Orleans, and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry Lyons.

Ceremony took place at the church of the Holy Name of Jesus, St. Charles street, 10 o'clock, at a nuptial mass, the Rev. Father Thomas Atherton, S. J., performing the ceremony before a large gathering of relatives and friends from New Orleans and from away. Many out-of-town friends journeyed to witness this important ceremony and to attend the reception that followed.

Beautiful clusters of white gladioli and palms and lighted candelabra decorated the chancel of the church and down the long center aisle, attached to the end of every fourth pew, were large bouquets of similar blooms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bouffant summery dress of white marquisette, made with a shirred bodice and having a sweetheart neckline edged with Chantilly lace. The puffed sleeves were also edged with Chantilly lace and the long full skirt ended in a double ruffle of the lace which extended all around the train. She wore the conventional veil of illusion attached to her head with a coronet of real lace and carried a round bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Lawrence Molony, was her matron of honor. She wore a gown of blue marquisette made with a square neckline and having a very full skirt trimmed with ruchings. The other attendants, Mrs. Raymond Mock, Miss Mary Catherine Dardis, Miss Claire Fernan and Miss Catherine Morgan, wore similar frocks. They carried fans fashioned of natural corn flowers and wore small hats of similar flowers.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Orleans Club, at which Mrs. Chalona, mother of the bride, was receiving in a dusty pink chiffon dress. She was assisted in receiving by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. John F. Lyons, whose gown was of aquamarine chiffon and also by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Henry G. Neyrey, whose gown was of Britishian lace.

Following the reception that afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Lyons left for a short stay on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, registering at the fashionable Edgewater Gulf Hotel, after which they journeyed on to Lookout Mountain and other points in Tennessee.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McDonald has recently undergone extensive repairs and as one of the handsomest large homes on North Beach Boulevard, with its three-story and large screened porch, is an asset to this section of the city.
